

SOME SUGGESTED TOPICS FOR THEME

childhood	race relations	courage
self-improvement	trust	death
dreams	family	prejudice
freedom	equality	imagination
loneliness	friendship	independence
revenge	suffering	understanding growing up	violence	desire
faith	fears	love
war

UNIVERSAL THEMES

How we Relate to Each Other

- Family is more important than popularity, wealth, etc.
- Sometimes we must go against what everyone else is doing and make our own path.
 - A true friendship can withstand tests.
 - Fighting doesn't solve problems.
- Others may help us, but we must figure out who we really are on our own.
- People who don't believe everyone is created equal can often act unfairly and sometimes can be dangerous.
 - Cheaters never win.
 - Honesty is the best policy.

How We Relate to Nature

- It is difficult for people from today's modern age to survive in the natural world.
 - Nature is a healing force.
- People are destroying nature and humanity with uncontrolled technology.
 - Good can come from bad.
 - Persistence and effort can pay off in the end.

Growing Up

- Growing up requires a person to make difficult choices.
 - Growing up is confusing.